

Leadership Forum

The Actuary in the Boardroom

Presented by: Anthony Lowe, Elaine Collins and Ian Pollard

Tuesday 31 July 2012

12.00 pm - 2.00 pm

Actuaries Institute • Level 7, 4 Martin Place • Sydney 2000

Are you considering a Non-Executive Director (NED) role, either in the near future or later in your career? Have you considered whether you are interested in a NED role at an insurance or financial services company or in another industry such as a not-for-profit organisation?

This interactive session will cover:

- The role and composition of the board.
- Why an actuary might be interested in Non-Executive Director (NED) roles and what they might contribute.
- How boards go about finding new NEDs.
- Launching a NED career.
- How to perform well as a NED.
- Dealing with a board as a consultant or as an executive – including the Chairman/ CEO relationship.

Anthony Lowe

Currently CEO of the Prostate Foundation of Australia following an actuarial career in superannuation consulting.

Elaine Collins

Commencing a NED career after 11 years in statutory actuarial roles.

Ian Pollard

Over 30 years as a company director and chairman in diverse industries.

Places are limited so registration is essential. • A light lunch will be provided from 12 noon. The presentation will start at 12.30pm.
