

Young Actuaries Program

Diversity and Talent: A Challenge and a Solution

Presented by: Trang Duncanson and Juliet Bourke

Tuesday 7 February 2012

12.00 - 2.00 pm

Deloitte, Level 9, 225 George Street, Sydney 2000

Following recent changes to ASX reporting requirements, diversity and inclusion has become an even hotter topic for leaders of Australian companies. So what are organisations doing to address diversity, particularly those in the financial services sector? How does that compare to what we have seen as best practice? And what really moves the needle to ensure women and men have equal chances of success?

Two presenters will share with you the research, their experiences and their personal stories - Juliet Bourke travels the globe talking to different leaders about diversity and inclusion. Trang Duncanson is a Fellow of the Institute of Actuaries, and has had a diverse personal and professional history. Both Juliet and Trang are Partners at Deloitte.

Trang Duncanson

Trang has 15 years of Life Insurance experience with a wide array of financial services companies, specialising in regulatory change and the financial, operational and modelling implications for life insurers. Within Deloitte Actuaries & Consultants, she leads the Life Insurance Community, driving the research and go to market efforts to life insurance clients.

Juliet Bourke

Juliet leads the diversity and inclusion practice as a Human Capital partner at Deloitte, helping organisations to develop and implement organisational change strategies which promote diversity, inclusion and flexibility. For the twelve years prior to February 2011 Juliet was one of two founding partners of Aequus Partners, a boutique diversity consulting firm combining her experience in employment law and human capital.

Places are limited to 50 so registration is essential. • Lunch will be provided.
